COUNCIL REFUSES TO OPPOSE HIGHER GAS RATES WITH 9 TO 8 VOTE

A resolution whereby the Warren borough council would file a complaint with the Public Utilities Commission protesting the Pennsylvania Gas Company's proposed rate increase was turned into a football by the town fathers, booted around gently, and defeated by a vote of nine to eight after its supporters failed to give any positive answers.

The action took place in the council chambers at the November meeting Monday night.

Somewhat reluctantly, public service committee chairman W. E. Miller expressed the majority feeling of his committee and presented the resolution. Upon its defeat a second resolution to give financial support to Erie in its gas rate battle was automatically dropped.

Mr. Miller pointed out that he and his committeemen -- Councilmen Hetem and Juliano -- had met with Donald Conaway, president of the Pennsylvania Gas Company in Warren, and received the list of proposed increases. In giving an example, Mr. Miller stated that at the present time Pennsylvania's rate for the first 1000 cubic feet is $2.00 compared to $3.00 for Manufacturers Light and Heat Company for heating purposes. Pennsylvania's proposed increase is $3.25. The chairman also said that at the 5000-6000 stage the proposed increase is lower than Manufacturers.

Members Hetem and Juliano had also visited Erie where they were asked by Solicitor Weber to join in the protest.

A series of questions was brought forth by the city fathers, but that was as far as most went. President Leon Laskaris asked if any complaints had been registered with the councilmen. Representatives of the Fourth Ward, Ninth Ward and South Side stated that a few were received.

In the voting the negative ballots were cast by councilmen Emery, Torrance, Yagge, Laskaris, Miller, Langdon, Patchen, Newmaker and Smith. In favor of the protest were Juliano, Hetem, Frantz, Johnson, Berdine, Carbon, Levine and Africa.

In regard to the ambulance situation chairman Miller remarked he was pleased over the people who had called and written his committee on the issue and informed council a temporary resolution had been drawn up and will be presented at the next session. Councilman Glen Patchen injected he had received many favorable comments on the present service.

The public safety committee, headed by Councilman Patchen, presented several ordinances and motions. Each passed unanimously.

They were that the parking meters be in operation during the special Christmas shopping hours; that the resignation of fireman Anthony Massa be accepted; that Edward E. Peterson be made a probationary patrolman on the police force; that Ken Rosenquist be appointed a provisional hoseman on the fire department; and that parking be prohibited on the north side of Conewango Place.

The secretary also was authorized to advertise for bids for a new police car, same to be opened at the December 10 meeting. The car would not be purchased until 1957 under the new budget.

Ray Johnson presided for the public works committee, which presented for adoption the assessments of paving for the 1956 project. They passed unanimously. The foot rates for the ten streets involved are:

Conewango Place, $4.65667; Franklin st., ext., $6.66255; Glenwood st., $5.48930; other portion of Glenwood, $3.76260; Hammond st., $6.63746; Orchard st., $6.63530; Russell st., $6.78201; Walnut st., $6.85079; East st., $6.88710; and Water st., $7.66406.

Property owners who adjoin or have access to the newly paved streets, which were all completed November 1, will be assessed.

Hammond st., between the north line of Madison ave. and the south line of Lincoln ave., was accepted as a borough street.

Two bids were opened for the new motor truck scale, but chairman Paul Yagge and his buildings and lands committee decided to hold them until a later date. The Buffalo Scale Co., Buffalo, N. Y., entered a bid of $4032, while the House Scale Co. of Buffalo listed its bid at $4069. The scales involved had a 50-ton capacity.

THE COLOR GUARD that participated in the Veterans' Day ceremonies at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument Monday.

Council accepted the resignation of Councilman Harry A. Logan, Jr., who has changed his residence to outside the borough, and named Jesse Smith as his successor in the third ward. Mr. Smith is actually filling out his own term, which expires January 1, 1958.

Burgess William E. Rice briefly explained the reflective plastic tape now being experimented with along the newly resurfaced Third ave. and expressed hopes of council seeing its way to provide such a tape in the future for school zones, strange intersections and crossings. The tape is supposed to have a life time of four to five years. He also mentioned the current police drive on speeders in the school areas.

SAVED. With the big visitors set to score again, Suppa changed the picture by intercepting a pass on his own seven yard. Jack played a good game, picking up a big share of Warren's yardage.

Jamestown took the big one, 28 to 0, from a Warren club which had half its men on the injured list.

IN COMMEMORATION of the war dead, a wreath was placed at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument during the observance of Veterans' Day Monday.

moor-Schwing Post 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Robert V. Gorsuch, commandant of the General Joseph H. Pendleton Detachment of the U. S. Marine Corps league.

The main address was given by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr.

New School On Swick Site Is Recommended

The Warren Area Joint School committee Monday night approved a resolution which recommends that the Warren Area Joint School Board at its annual meeting in December approve the construction of a new high school on the Swick site. The board meets December 10.

The committee also voted to employ the architect firm of Meyer, Krider, Werle, and Ellenberger, of Erie, subject to agreement on contract terms.

The two recommendations were proposed by the special committee which was appointed a month ago to come up with "a new slant". Chairman Ernest Miller reported that it had held six meetings, made one extensive field trip, and had given extensive study to the reports of a site committee which had studied that subject for many months.

He said the committee believed a school should be built that will be functional for fifty years, be of the most advanced design, and be constructed so as to allow for change. It should have adequate playing and parking areas, and the surrounding area should enhance it. The site should not be suitable for industry.

The committee also urged prompt action to assure the maximum of benefits.

The votes on the two motions were overwhelming majorities. In the case of the new school and Swick site proposal the vote was twelve to two. Those opposing were Melvin Keller of Warren and Lee Schaeffer of Pleasant twp.

Voting in favor were John Miley, Ernest Miller, Harry Chinberg, Harris Johnson, Frank Colosimo, Norman Grosch, Mrs. June Mickelson, Wallace Cowden, Charles Frantz, Russell Hanson, Myron Jewell, and Dr. Arthur O'Connor.

In the vote on the employment of architects the only opposing member was Mr. Keller.

Previous to the vote, Mr. Schaeffer argued against the Swick site on the basis of entrance difficulty. He found no support.

Before the committee made its proposal, Bud Owens addressed the board with an appeal favoring the Glade-Frank site which he said was adequate. He contradicted the previous site committee and the architects by saying that it would not require the purchase of many surrounding properties. He claimed there would be enough space for a school if only three properties were purchased.

He said the extra costs on the Swick site would be at least $100,000. He said he represented only seven or eight people, and that he realized the committee no doubt already had reached a conclusion.

Virginia Scholes said she wondered where these seven or eight people had been all these months when many groups and the board were studying sites and the school problem. She said it seemed a little late to be presenting already known information when the committee was about to vote on the conclusions of its study.

Mr. Keller who obviously was most opposed to the actions being taken, mentioned the high cost of education, and intimated some doubt about the number of people represented by the committee on a new school. He attempted to stall action on the proceedings, suggesting the committee wait until November 19 to hear three architect firms spend a half hour each discussing their abilities.

Mr. Cowden said he was not interested in listening to a half hour sales talk and that he wouldn't attend such a meeting. Mr. Miller said the two firms who had submitted written reports knew the score and that he didn't think three other firms could catch up in one-half hour.

The special committee, consisting of Messrs. Miller, Cowden, Jewell, Chinberg, and Frantz was discharged.

The board also discussed using the five rooms on the third floor of the high school until a new school is built. Action awaits costs of a fire escape and approval of state safety officials.

It approved December 10 as the date for the annual joint board meeting in Beatty school, when a dinner will be a part of the evening pro-

TIME RUNNING OUT

The small game season included much unusual weather this year and the average hunter should have enjoyed many pleasant hours afield, even if he missed what he saw when he sighted down the barrel. Another week remains for grouse, quail, turkeys, pheasants, rabbits, and squirrels.

In case you have forgotten, don't let that gun get out of control if a woodcock, jacksnipe, sora, rail, or gallinule goes by. (Gallinule? If anything with a name like that went by this gentleman he would give up something.) Getting back to our less frightened thought, the season on the woodcock and those other strangers is past, and in a lifeless condition are not popular with game wardens.

Bear take the stage November 26 and last until December 1. You can start popping at buck deer on December 3. Bring your glasses along.

A buck is a deer with a horn at least three inches long, or with an antler with two or more points.

(Following are a few words from the Pennsylvania Game Commission.)

BOY HUNTERS NEED GUIDANCE
It is disquieting to note that early in the 1956 game season an unusually high percentage of gun-hunter casualties were boys. A few of them were fatalities.

Apparently, some youngsters are hunting alone or with other boys. The law requires they be accompanied by an adult while hunting, for the boys' safety and that of others.

The incidence of self-shooting among teen-age hunters this fall again indicates that those involved had not been schooled in the operations of their firearm and in safe gun handling, so probably did not realize the potentials of the instrument they used.

However, the young hunters are not the only victims of preventable "accidents" due to misdirected gunfire. Other persons are sometimes the victims of quick or anxious shooting when youths are not taught the responsibilities of a shooter and the necessity of controlling the urge to fire until certain their intended target is legal game.

Before season sportsmen, gun clubs and public schools have commendably assumed the task of teaching youngsters safe gun handling and stressing dangerous hunting methods. But the lack of firm parental control of youngsters with guns has allowed many human shootings, in season and out. Under proper supervision the boy need not be denied the pleasures and benefits of hunting. Dad, uncle or older brother can take the boy along on trips afield in season. A man may have less hunting success in company with an obstreperous boy, but he will learn that teaching the lad safe and courteous hunting methods pay real, satisfying dividends.

Pennsylvania keeps a count of persons injured or killed by gun or bow in the hands of persons hunting any kind of wildlife any time in the year. The human casualty count going into the current hunting season was exceptionally low. It is the aim of the Game Commission and all safety-minded groups and individuals to keep the 1956 total as far under that of any recent year as possible. Common sense, emotional control by all hunters, and control too of eager, inexperienced young gunners will prevent many a sad incident.

DON'T SMOKE OUT WILD GAME
The Law Enforcement Division of the Game Commission reminds hunters that it is unlawful for any Getting ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving. First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week . . . before they have a chance to go elsewhere. person to smoke or burn out any wild animal, from its den or place of refuge.

The Pennsylvania Game Law carries this provision partially for human safety, partially to encourage good sportsmanship.

When a hunter leaves a hollow tree stub or log burning he opens the way, also, for one or two undesirable consequences. Woodland or field fires are sometimes started by the inconsiderate act. In self-protection, then, the landowner sometimes closes his property to all hunting.

WINTER GAME FOODS

On hunting trips this fall, members of sportsmen's clubs have observed that winter game foods are not plentiful in some sections. It has been reported that a number of these organizations are presently contracting to buy strips of standing corn close to cover. Many of them are planning winter feeding forays in wild turkey country.

When clubs and individuals buy corn, on the stalk or from the crib, from farmer friends the people on the land learn that sportsmen are willing to protect and care for the game in winter as well as bag it in season.

Such purchases of winter game food have also encouraged many farmers to provide additional food and cover for wildlife as another crop on their property.

The POLITICS OF IT

SLAP!

The 1956 election seemed like a reprimanding slap on the part of many surprisingly independent voters. They said we like you, Ike, but we are not going to give you what you want. So they repudiated most of his chosen candidates and handed him a Democratic congress.

In the west they expressed their dislike of the Republican farm and natural resource programs by taking a bit away from his 1952 majority and electing liberal Democrats to congress. The south showed displeasure with some Democrat liberalism and revealed its growing independence. It also probably showed industrial symptoms, with many northerners moving into the area for business reasons.

There is little doubt that the crisis which developed in the Suez and Hungaria caused many borderliners, who may not have made up their minds, to stay with present leadership. They stayed with the general and repudiated the civilian without national and international experience.

The decision of the voters was not as inconsistent as it may seem. Most of the President's program actually is an extension and expansion of what already had been started by Roosevelt or Truman administrations. The opposition continued to be the Old Guard Republicans.

It seems logical that they would choose the popular man with fairly liberal views and at the same time continue their demands for a liberal program by electing congressmen who will give it to them. If President Eisenhower is sincere in many of his announced intentions, he will find more support from the Democrats than from the Republicans he said he wanted to reform.

The voters seemed to say, "You're a great guy, Ike, but you just don't know the score. If you really want those things you talk about, here are the boys who will help you get them."

And now we will learn if the President really wants advances in health, education, housing, and social measures. Or was he more interested in modernizing the Republican party. In the latter he will find much opposition. In the former he should find a Democrat majority and enough liberal Republicans to give him support.

END OF GOP?

As has been written in many places and reported on many air waves, this is the first time since 1848 that a president has been elected without at least one house enjoying a majority of his party. Another war hero, Zachary, suffered that fate, and Whig party was washed up.

We suspect that the fate of the very reactionary portion of the Republican party is about to suffer the same fate. The party will not win in 1960 unless it changes its ways to suit the voters, who obviously revealed November 6 that they like the personality at the top but do not favor the party policies as a whole.

We doubt if Nixon or any of his isolationist friends can win in 1960. For this reason you no doubt will see Tom Dewey or one of his political friends take over an important cabinet post. It will be the cabinet against Nixon and friends for control in the 1960 convention. To win that nomination, the Nixon faction must mend its ways in national legislation.

Actually there are both elements in both parties. Such men as Rayburn and Johnson in the south have proved by their support of the gas bill that they are as big business as any Republican. Party lines mean different things in various parts of the nation. Maybe it is healthier this way because it keeps the two-party system alive. But it is confusing.

NO AXE

When a man goes into a football crouch and his posterior possesses a beam which stretches well across a major portion of the horizon . . . and when that breadth is set over a very husky pair of legs, you are standing behind a rugged character. Put seven of these together, teach them how to play football, and you come up with a line behind which a few fast backs can get away with mayhem.

And there you have the Jamestown team. Its backs were fast, shifty, and handled the ball well. But they were given much time in which to get away with such fancy work, thanks to those beams which adorned their forward wall.

They were just a little too good. Too big, too fast, and too experienced for a green team to handle.

On this side of the state line you find a squad which is rebuilding after losing ten men out of an undefeated team. That is bad enough, but to make the odds even a little too much, put five of your first stringers in civics with broken bones and other injuries. This leaves you with nothing much but a hopeful look in the direction of Beaty junior high.

For years we have wailed that it is unfair to ask boys to play their big game of the season with a town that has a population three times as large as theirs. And so has three big boys for every one of ours, three fast ones for every fast one we produce, and should be putting out a team which would rate with the best in the nation.

Three junior high schools feed their players into Jamestown. Our junior high school eleven has been knocking them off regularly every season. But when you put the three of them together four years later the percentages are a little off balance.

It requires a hustling Warren team at nearly full strength to take the Red and Green. We remember when Warren lost the great Fritz Kennett on the opening play of the big game in 1924. We pulled it out by one score.

Last year we had lost Mohney and the gloom was heavy. Warren won but it wasn't easy, even though the score was well piled on our side.

This year we lost five regulars and several others who might have developed. And so the big boys from the Hilltop ploughed onto the field and had themselves a 28 to 0 victory. And we seethed inside through every minute of it. Unfair! Unfair! The word pounded through us the entire game.

But the boys kept scrapping. They never gave up. And a big share of them will be back there next year, a little bigger, a little faster, a lot more experienced and supported by a few huskies from the undefeated freshman team. If the injury jinx will just go someplace else for a couple seasons, and if those boys really train and work at it, there are some giants from across the line whom we are going to enjoy seeing chopped down.

This year we had some beanstalks and maybe some guys by the name of Jack. But we didn't have an axe.

OUTSTANDING

One of the most outstanding exhibitions of defensive play we ever have seen should have been enjoyed by the football fans on Memorial Field Saturday. There were very few tackles made in which Connie Hultman did not participate. On two series of downs we counted six solo tackles by Connie and two cooperatives. We believe the score would have been double 28 if the hustling junior had not been in the line-up.

CRASHING A TRAFFIC light at 12:46 a.m. Saturday at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. and South st. resulted in $450 damage and the arrest of James H. Barnes, of Clarendon, for the violation.

Barnes was proceeding north on South and was struck in the intersection by Mable E. Horner, Youngsville, who was going west on the avenue. The latter received a bruised ankle and shoulder.

CLOSE CALL. Two Warren women can thank their lucky tree. They are Pauline Rosenquist, 34, 204 Falconer st., and Mary Muscaro, 30, 111 Pine st.

The pair were passengers in a car owned by Joseph Bruto, Warren, and were parked in the 400 block on Pennsylvania ave., W., on the side of the river. Mr. Bruto had left the car for a moment and it is believed that the Muscaro woman, who was in the middle seat, bumped the shift lever and the car started forward. She then apparently hit the gas pedal instead of the brake and the car took off over the curb, knocked over a parking meter and wound up against a tree over the river bank.

Both were taken to the hospital in an ambulance and treated for minor injuries. Damage amounted to $500 to the auto.

ESCAPE DEATH. The Herman E. Shirley family of Fifth ave., E., ext., escaped death about 10:00 a. m. Wednesday when their home was gutted by fire.

The mother, Mrs. Florence Shirley, was lying in a first floor bedroom when she was awakened by screams from her children. The two daughters, Cheryl Lynn, 2-1/2, and Betty Jane, 3-1/2, were playing with their grandmother, Mrs. Cora Cochran, when they discovered fire shooting from between the kitchen and a bedroom partition.

Mrs. Shirley's efforts to douse the flames with water were unsuccessful and she then attempted to arouse the rest of the family, including a nine-month-old baby, William.

A neighbor called the fire department as the family shouting to arouse 17-year-old Robert Ford, a nephew sleeping upstairs. He was forced to jump to safety from a second story window. Mr. Shirley was at work at the time and three other children were in school.

The home was covered by insurance.

RAIDERS POUND DRAGONS

A fired up Jamestown ball club--led by "T" quarterback Bobo Hunter--walked over a depleted Warren high eleven 28-0 before a capacity crowd that turned out for the old-time rivalry at War Memorial Field Saturday.

There is little question that the Red Raiders were keyed up for the contest, but allowances must be made for Coach Fred Bell and the crippled Dragons who left about a half dozen lettermen on the bench as they ran onto the field.

Jamestown's line was big and pushed the Warren greenies around and the defense was not seasoned enough to stop the fast moving Hunter and company.

Connie Hultman, who has been hampered with a leg injury and has seen only limited duty lately, was the spark in Warren's defense. As left linebacker, the driving junior covered more than his share of the Dragon secondary and busted up several Jamestown plays.

It has been 14 years since Warren took such a shellacking from a Jamestown eleven.

Coach Walter Colburn's team pounded out a pair of tallies in the first stanza with Tom Sharp charging over from the six and sixteen yard stripes. In the second quarter Dick Jeziorski found a hole on the eleven and legged it to pay dirt.

The final tally came in the third when Hunter kept the pigskin on the option play and chalked off 12 yards to score. The four points after were made by Scarpino (2), Hunter and Sharp.

SIX-MAN NUCLEUS

Six veteran lettermen will strengthen Warren high's wrestling hopes when the season opens next month. On hand to support Coach Harold Miller as he opens his first year here will be Don Brian and Bill Cummings, two-year letter winners, Harry Brooker, Connie Hultman, Iver Stenberg and Jim Tinelli.

Under Coach Homer Barr these grapples marked a 6-4-1 record last season.

Other prospects for Miller are Jay Benze, Ron Bowen, Bill Campbell, Gail Page, Steve Pearson, Dave Sedwick and Bruce Trenen.

COUNTY ALL-STAR TEAM

The 1956 WNAE All-County Class B team has been announced by Frank Filesi, sports director of the local radio station.

Names "most valuable back" was Bud Rowland, Northern Area half-back, and Ronald Kulbacki, Youngsville, was picked the "most valuable lineman".

First team selections from the three schools involved--Northern Area, Sheffield and Youngsville--were: ends--Rockwell (NA) and Miley (S), tackles--Kulbacki (Y) and Welsh (NA), guards--Feeny (NA) and Schmidlen (S), center--Smith (Y), quarterback--Dinniny (Y), left half--McNeal (S), right half--Rowland (NA), and fullback--Moniak (Y).

Second team: ends--Andrews (S) and McCanna (Y), tackles--Slater and Dunn (S), guards--Darling and Wimer (Y), center--English (NA), quarterback--Olson (NA), lefthalf--McCoy (NA), righthalf--Brenneman (Y), and fullback--Johnson (S).

Honorable mention went to Hallfast, Youngsville, and Schuler, Shefield.

VETERAN. Ed "Wink" Rickerson is one of two veterans returning to the Warren high varsity basketball team this season. The big boy has earned two letters at WHS and will form the nucleus of Coach Joe Massa's five along with returnee John Powley.

The players were selected by the coaches and players of the schools.

TWO CAGE RETURNERS

Ed Rickerson and John Powley are the only two returning veterans around which Coach Joe Massa must build his 1956-57 Warren high basketball varsity. The Dragons open their season against Erie Academy on December 1.

Coach Massa, along with his assistant James Johnson, has put the tryouts into full swing this week with the football season over. ASIDES

WHO HIRES THEM?

They missed one important item at that big school board meeting Monday. They approved the Erie architects as the ones to do the job, but the president of the board failed to authorize someone to make the contact and talk contract. We hope this does not indicate the possibility of further delay.

ACCESS PROBLEM?

The one argument that is given greatest emphasis by some when they talk about the Swick site is access to it. This, of course, is its weakness. But it is such a minor weakness compared with the many advantages.

If a man of middle age can walk to the summit of this area without discomfort, we believe young legs can make it, especially after it is graded and stepped.

As for busses making their way into the area. We already have driven onto the Swick site with an ordinary car. Certainly a paved roadway will offer no problem to modern vehicles. And since when is 4-10ths of a mile an item where a car is concerned?

ONE MORE

After all these weeks and months of discussion, and thousands of editorial words, has anyone asked the Swicks if they want to sell. When a member of our staff approached the family earlier this year, no one had asked them.

WHERE WERE YOU

Several councilmen reported Monday night that they had received no protests against the proposed gas rate increase. We know that people are very unhappy about the increased cost, but it comes back to a column in last week's issue. They are afraid to speak up.

We wonder where those people are who always are accusing council of not working for the little man. Where are the unions and others who fight for the rights of labor? We do not blame many councilmen for taking the attitude of "what's the use?"

GOING UP

The reason the Warren Television line now can receive WBUF-TV from Buffalo is the increase from 50 to 500 kilowatts which occurred about October 1. It will go to a million next year. Actually this will mean a signal about twenty-five per cent stronger than the present one, according to line officials.

WITH ELECTION GONE the administration in Washington now is saying that our prosperity probably will taper off in 1957. Can't last forever, they say.

However, in Warren county employment is holding up fairly well. Only 193 persons were receiving unemployment compensation benefits the last week in October. A year ago it was 290, and two months ago it was 211. Total employment since January has increased about eight per cent. The weather this fall has helped prolong the seasonal jobs that depend on clear days.

DEADLINE COMING UP for the Navy reserve officer training corps examination. Applications must be filed by November 17. Examinations will be given December 8. You go to college on the navy's pay check if you make it. And you receive a commission. Application forms should be available in your school.

BRUCELLOSIS WANES in Warren county which has become a modified certified area. This means that Bangs disease is almost eliminated in Warren county herds, according to Steve Tritt. The testing program involved 15,436 cattle.

IN THE RUSH of following the Warren area committee on its decision to recommend a new high school on a new site, resolutions passed by various organizations became a bit lost. Among these was the final conclusion of the Citizens Committee for a New High School. It voted to approve a resolution which asked for a new high school on a site with at least 22 acres, the state's minimum requirement for a 1200 student school, and it urged immediate action to provide the high school at the earliest possible time.

It should be noted that the committee did not act on a specific site, contrary to many insinuations. But it set up a list of specifications which it felt should be met. It also elected officers as follows: Duane Wilder, chairman; Don Dalrymple, vice chairman; Dorothy Wyman, secretary; Fred Harmon, Jean Steele, and Virginia Scholes, executive board.

WE FORGOT last week to report that the Warren borough council at a special meeting had approved resolutions concerning plans and agreements with the Department of Forests and Waters concerning the Glade Run project. It authorized Warren to enter into a maintenance agreement with the United Refinery Company, and also authorized an agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad concerning an easement over a right-of-way on Glade run.

NEW STATION

The first uhf programs to be viewed in Warren county were placed over the Warren Television lines last week and are being seen over Channel 6. The programs come from Buffalo WBUF, which goes out on Channel 17 in that area. It is the station recently purchased by NBC, resulting in the loss of that network's programs by WGR which now is ABC.

Other lines in Warren now are buying the equipment necessary to bring in this station which at the present time is a bit weak. However, we are told it will greatly increase its wattage in 1957, and those that can get it now certainly will enjoy good reception later.

JAMES DEAN WEEK

Fans of the late James Dean have a double treat ahead this week. Friday night, by popular demand, Playhouse of Stars will present "The Unlighted Road" at 9:30 on Channel 4. The TV drama was first shown on the CBS network May 6, 1955, then again on June 1, 1956. In it Dean stars as an ex-GI who becomes involved in a hi-jacking ring.

Sunday evening on the General Electric Theater Dean will star with Natalie Wood and Eddie Albert in "I'm a Fool". In this adaption of a Sherwood Anderson story, Dean plays the role of a young boy of 19 who runs away from home, gets a job as a stable boy at a race track, is happy there until he meets Lucy (Natalie Wood) who is wealthy and pretty.

WHERE ARE THE MARINES?

The Navy and the Air Force will highlight Sunday viewing on WBEN-TV. See It Now at 5 p.m. will feature Edward R. Murrow's hour-long production "Revolution in the Navy". Atom power and guided missiles in modern warfare have done to the Navy what Henry Ford did to Old Dobbin. TV cameras will take armchair admirals and Sunday afternoon snoozers under the sea aboard an atom-powered submarine, into the cockpit of a jet plane landing on the super-carrier Forrestal, to the control room of the whale-shaped submarine Albacore, and into the wild blue yonder in the giant jet-powered Martin seamaster.

The second part of "Revolution in the Navy" will appear on the January 6 show.

Just time for a little cat nap before Eddie Rickenbacker, narrating Air Power, takes us back to the early days of the Wright Brothers and the beginnings of powered flight. Anyone who saw last Sunday's Night North America Is Attacked will not want to miss a single program in the 26-week series. Walter Cronkite describes Air Power as "the story of our century, told by men and the machines they fly".

THE VOICE

Do you hear voices when no one is talking? Do you get the strange feeling that someone is tapping you on the shoulder when you know you are alone? Do you get unexplainable hunches? Then join the skeptical trial attorney on Science Fiction Theater, Channel 4, Saturday at 7 p.m. He, too, scoffed at mental telepathy until forced to try it to save his life.

PRIZES FOR POETS

Academy of American Poets announces a contest for radio verse plays. Rules of the competition, closing February 1, 1957, provide that any script submitted becomes available to CBS Radio for broadcast on its Workshop or other of its network programs. The three winners will receive respectively, $500, $300 and $200. In addition, any author whose script is chosen for production will receive a $300 fee from CBS radio.

Contest is open to all American versifiers writing in the English language who submit original, unpublished manuscripts. Get your official entry blank for Academy of American Poets Inc., 1030 Fifth Ave., New York 28.

ELOISE

Starring in Kay Thompson's precocious "Eloise" will be Ethel Barrymore, Louis Jourdan, Mildred Natwick, Monty Woolley and Conrad Hilton at 9:30 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day.

Playhouse 90 dramatizes the singing comedienne's hit book in a special 90-minute comedy with music.

FIVE NIGHTS AT THE OPERA

Ed Sullivan followers will have box seats for five famous operas beginning November 25. Rudolph Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, has signed a contract with Ed in which leading Met stars, conductors and orchestra will present five fully staged scenes from five leading operas.

Maria Meneghini Callas and George London will be the November 25 show in a scene from Tosca. Two weeks later, the show will feature the finale of Act I, the Love Duet from Puccini's Madame Butterfly, with Dorothy Kirsten and Mario Del Monaco.

DIAL SPINNERS

THAT AIR POWER show which opened its series Sunday had us wondering what would happen if an enemy air force weren't so accommodating about sending a fleet in from the north with six hours notice. It was because of this fleet of planes that we were ready sooner on the east and west. They would have caught us with our jets down without the advance alert.

Of course we know it was not the real thing and basic defenses certainly were not revealed, but it could be.

THOSE WHO SIGH over Perry Le Comte can see him twice this week end. He and Julie London will join Bob Hope on his second program of the fall season, from 9 to 10, Sunday, NBC.

LA BOHEME will be given in English by NBC Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 4, in color and black and white. It opens a season of operas for NBC-tv.

TROPICAL FISH will be sold by Edward Everett Horton on the George Gobel show, Saturday. However, the big attraction may be Kulidip Singh, Pakistani 22-year-old singing discovery of Groucho Marx.

CBS ELECTION coverage received a Trendex rating of 25.3, a ratio of two to one over any other network. There is little doubt that CBS covered both the conventions and the election in very efficient style.

ERROL FLYNN subbing for Edward G. Robinson. Flynn in Footsteps in the Dark replaces Robinson and Little Caesar, Saturday, at 11:30, over WBEN tv.

MAN AND SUPERMAN, the Shaw play which in 1947 established a Shaw record of 310 performances on Broadway, will be done on NBC-TV's Hallmark of Fame, Sunday, November 25, 9 to 10:30, with Maurice Evans, who played the lead in 1947, seen again in that part. The play grossed $1,200,000 in its New York run, but, due to taxes, Shaw received only 25 cents out of every $5 in royalties. We imagine some Shaw wry-vians resulted from that.

FOOTBALL in the eastern section will be Yale vs. Princeton this Saturday, at 1:15. In the Big Ten area Minnesota and Michigan State will be seen. There also will a two-game split-network setup on Thanksgiving Day. You will see Penn and Cornell.

They will be fighting it out for the roots of the IVY league.

The Giants play Washington and the Browns meet Philadelphia, Sunday. Detroit and Green Bay can be seen Thanksgiving Day.

IN BOXING it is a heavyweight affair, Bob Baker and Harold Carter, rated fifth and sixth, respectively.

Television and Radio

By George Gobel

(While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is George Gobel.)
I've been asked to make a few remarks on humor, and I suppose the reason for this request is that I've spent some years in the night club circuit as well as a few seasons dragging my feet in the sandtrap of television comedy.

To begin at the very beginning, one should ask: What is humor? Webster says: "Humor is the mental faculty of discovering, expressing or appreciating ludicrous or absurdly incongruous elements." And all I've got to say is, with that kind of material, it's a good thing Webster never had to do four shows a night at the Kenosha Kayude Club. After one performance, he'd have been thrown out in the street with all his infinitives split.

The fact is that no two people agree on what humor is. What's funny to me may not be funny to my wife. Come to think of it, you can write that down as a law. And it's not that Alice and I don't see eye to eye on most subjects. It's just that her laugh track is not attuned to MY wave length. Things that amuse me leave her as cold as a headwaiter's stare. For instance, just the other day Alice and I walked into a bakery, and for a minute or so no one was there to wait on us; then the sales girl came out of the back room, looked at us and said: "Are you two together?"

"Yes," I said to the girl, "for the time being we're together, but you never know what tomorrow will bring."

Now, I thought it was kind of cute the way I got that off, but do you think that Alice would crack a smile? Heck, no.

Actually, the way people react to humor can be compared to how people react to paintings. It depends pretty much on what they bring to it. I've entertained at places where people brought nothing to the performance except their knitting. By the same token, I've also appeared at places where the audience was so keyed up that they laughed almost before I could begin talking. Once, in a small town in northern Illinois, I had such an enthusiastic audience that it was an hour before I could start my act. Once I got into my routines, though, they got out their darning needles and quieted down.

But I digress. The question that faces us is: what are the main ingredients that make up the big chocolate cake of humor? Well, sir -- first and foremost, you need a sly observation on the foibles of man. Next, you set this observation against the meaning of life. Then you set both of these observations against a third observation on the pettiness of woman. All you need now is a joke. In fact, if you've got a good joke, you don't hardly need any of the observations.

Of course, even when you have a good joke you can't always use it. Especially on television. And the reason is that you might offend some person or group. That's one of the big problems of our time: controversial humor. Take politics, for instance. If you kid the Republicans, you're going to make enemies of the Democrats. And if you kid the Democrats, you're going to make given birth to the funny commerce-versa of the Republicans. You may not believe this, but I recently got a letter of protest for making a joke about the Greenback Party. The letter was attached to three large greenbacks -- a 2-1/2 dollar bill, a 7 dollar bill, and a 9 dollar bill -- and it read: "Shorty, don't be runnin' down us Greenbackers just becauz we got our own ideas about a currency system."

Another time I got called down for making a joke about doctors. It wasn't really a joke. All I did was read a book title that I had seen on a magazine stand. The title of the book was: "None But The Noble". And the subtitle was: "The Heartwarming Story of a Doctor Whose Fees Proved to be Higher Than His Ideals."

But in spite of these few drawbacks, television has done much to foster the spread of humor. It has

ULP!

Don't squash that ant! Just put cocoa on his coco and enjoy him. He is delectable. The tables have been turned. No longer are ants a pest at the picnic. They are the picnic!

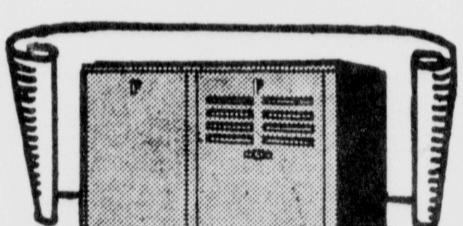

That's what it says right on the front page of the November 9 issue of the Wall Street Journal. Chocolate covered ants now are a delicacy. Also fried grasshoppers, baby bees in soy sauce, roasted locusts, and those grubs we once fed to the fish. Americans are demanding them at the specialty stores and are devouring them.

The ants in our pants phrase is passe. We now are feeding them to our ulcers!

Now we know what people mean when they say they have butterflies in their stomach.

THE BETTER TO FRY YOU WITH

If the people who sell gas know the score, there will be three hundred million units in use to fry those ants by 1975. This is three times the number of gas burners now throwing off heat, and is due in part to the higher standard of living in suburban areas where modern facilities now are becoming possible.

Another angle is the growing demand for built-in appliances. The American Gas Association quips that the annual rate of growth in this line is so great that "eventually it may develop that the only free-standing equipment in the kitchen of the future will be the housewife".

We can see it now, For Sale -- House with built-in kitchen and equipped with housewife.

WILL STOP HEALTH CLAIMS

The Federal Trade Commission has approved a consent order prohibiting P. W. Minor & Son, Inc., Batavia, N. Y., from advertising its stock 'Treadeasy' shoes as cures-all for disorders of the feet.

The Commission adopted an initial decision by Hearing Examiner Frank Hier approving an order agreed to by the company and the Commission's Bureau of Litigation.

According to the Commission's complaint, issued June 7, the shoes have been described, for example, as "orthopedics" and "correctors," terms which cannot properly be applied to any stock shoe. The complaint alleged that such terms imply that these shoes are especially designed to correct foot trouble, when, in fact, an orthopedic physician ordinarily must determine what type shoe, if any, fits the needs of individual cases.

The company agreed to the order for settlement purposes only and does not admit that it has violated the law.

NOT NEW OIL

The Federal Trade Commission has ordered High Penn Oil Co., Inc., High Point, N. C., to stop representing that the used oil it sells is new.

The Commission adopted as its own an order against the company issued by a Commission hearing examiner July 31.

In his initial decision, the examiner, Abner E. Lipscomb, found that the company collects used oil from garages, service stations, and similar sources and, after reprocessing, markets it in new oil containers without any disclosure that the product is used.

The examiner ruled that there is a general public preference for new oil and a belief that oil offered for sale in containers of a certain general size and appearance is new.

The Commission's order specifically prohibits the company from representing that oil composed in whole or in part of used, reclaimed oil is new or unused oil or refined

SUN AND PURE OIL CHARGED WITH PRICE DISCRIMINATION

Pure Oil Co., Chicago, Ill., and Sun Oil Co., Philadelphia, Pa., have been charged by the Federal Trade Commission in separate complaints with engaging in price discrimination among certain filling station customers and with fixing the resale price with some of them in violation of the antitrust laws.

Both are charged with selling gasoline to favored customers at prices lower than they charge competitors of these customers, in violation of Sec. 2(a) of the Robinson-

Patman Amendment to the Clayton Act.

They are also charged with agreeing with the favored customers to fix their retail prices in order to suppress competition, in violation of the FTC Act.

High Honor Awarded Local Scout Leader

The Silver Antelope award, second highest given by the Boy Scouts of America, was awarded Harold L. Banghart in Harrisburg Friday night. The Warren man has been associated with scouting in this area for many years and was honored for his outstanding service to boys.

Mr. Banghart, who at one time served as president of the Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, is now a director of the local council, a representative to the National Council and a member of the Region III committee.

The citation, which accompanied the presentation, said in part, "A warm Christian spirit permeates every act and deed of this devoted Scouter and friend of the boy."

"His belief that constant effort at personal improvement is a day by day necessity for individual growth, eminently qualified Mr. Banghart for his first endeavor as a Scouter. He was appointed Chairman of the Warren County Council Advancement Committee. The entire Advancement program was quickly given a new perspective and many Scouts gained additional skills that helped them move rapidly along the Advancement trail.

"As a member of the council, his potentiality was soon realized and in 1941, he was unanimously elected President. His great popularity, coupled with intense personal interest, crowned his achievements at the helm of his council. The appreciation of his associates was expressed in 1944 when he was awarded the Silver Beaver.

"His interest in Scouting has not been confined to his own council. Generous in resources and time, Harold Banghart continues to serve as a valued member of the Region Three Executive Committee."

FIRST SEAL SALE. Warren postmaster Brace S. Knabenshue opened the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale today by receiving the first sheets of Christmas seals from E. W. Nine, campaign chairman.

In purchasing the sheets, Mr. Knabenshue urged the use of all the seals you can -- placing two on each letter. "By so doing," he stated, "we can more quickly wipe out this dread disease which is a constant threat to the health and happiness of our families."

MOVED THE STICKS. Dick Day, Jamestown sub back, moved the ball to the 11 and gave the Red Raiders a first down in this action Saturday.

On the next play fullback Dick Jeziorski bolted over and Bobo Hunter added the PAT to give the visitors a 21-0 lead at halftime.

Resolution Of Citizens Committee On New School

RESOLVED, that the Citizen's Committee for a New High School is in favor of a new high school on a site which meets the State's minimum requirement of 22 acres for a school of 1200 pupils and urges the Joint Committee of the Warren Area Joint School Board to take immediate action to provide a new high school at the earliest possible time.

WE FAVOR A NEW HIGH SCHOOL ON SUCH A SITE BECAUSE:

1. The cost saving to be realized by remodeling is too small to justify the disadvantages.

2. A remodeled building would not be fireproof causing hazard to the occupants and increased insurance premiums.

3. A remodeled building would cost more to maintain and have a shorter life.

4. A remodeled building would contain substandard areas and would impair the quality of the educational program.

5. The present site is noisy and hazardous because of traffic.

6. The present site is subject to flooding.

7. The present site is not large enough. The new site should have adequate land for the school, auxiliary areas, adequate parking and future expansion needs.

Passed by the Citizens Committee for a New High School on 8 November 1956.

You would never ask a friend or relative who had never done it before to fill your teeth or even to cut your hair. But the complications of estate management, which requires life long study and experience, are too often assigned to such a connection.

The executor that you have in mind . . . is he experienced as are the trust officers of the Warren National Bank? Does his day's work consist in handling estates? Will he be always available? Will he be sure to live long enough to see your estate through to its conclusion?

He cannot charge less than our trust department (with all of its experience) for charges are fixed by law.

So may we suggest that you have your attorney draw your will and confer with him and with us about setting up your estate for the maximum of efficiency, of experience and continuity of management.
